Board friends. In one corner they had a table for officers only, and they seemed to enjoy themselves. I am any judge, the intrepid Captain and Cadets of the T. H. took their smiles from us, and by their good natured soldiers administered to our bodily wants. I believe there was a

DARE SOMETHING

at the door where basket after basket full of estates were delivered to some of the poor children who were unable to come to the banquet, and I understand, it was an "Oh be joyful!" time with them, as they were too glad to receive a blessing at the hand of the ever charitable Salvationists, who live to do good and do no wrong. After the meal and divine justice to the things that perish, we went in for a rod or prayer meeting before the march, and the Spiritual man was much strengthened thereby. We had the brass band with us which discussed sweet and harmonious soliloquies music to those whom we met on our line of march.

The Justice was beyond description. Capt. Arthur led the musical crowd, 7 musicians behind the organ, also by faithful Richard, who blows or plays the symbols. The testimonies were short, sharp, and to the point, after which followed Capt. Alex. McLean, who has been short of his hair but not of his power. Cedie Tuttle sang from the War Cav, and gave so exalted that she fell off the platform. The D.O. also favored us with his favorite song, followed by a Word from "Warre-mind-m" (Sgtm. Capt. Totten), as Staff Capt. and Mrs. Cooper called. As there was no one offered to accept Jesus as their personal Saviour, we had to close and make our way to the

"A never failing friend."

OLD SOUTHERN ALLIANCE

for the watch-night service, which was opened by that beautiful song,

"Oh! Calvary I dark Calvary!
Where Jesus shed His blood for me;
Oh! Calvary I dark Calvary!
Speak to my heart from Calvary."

The spirit of God abided upon us in mighty power, and everyone seemed to settle down to get something definite from God and to make up their minds to enter the battle. The testimonies that were given were powerful and to the point. While some told of their failure during the past year and their determination to succeed the coming year, others told of how God had given them the victory all through the year, and of their determination to make 1868 better than ever. That was the spirit that pervaded every soul.

I said to God, "I belong fully to Him and He could do all I chose with me again this year, that I was willing to suffer, live or die for Him, and I believe that was the language of nearly every heart present. " We all stod and sang,

"Never my God to Thee."

and wave after wave of power came upon us and our

of this year stood and testified of her new found Saviour, which we consider a grand start for the New Year.

Dear War Cav I am afraid you will boycott my letter, as my heart is so full of the love of Jesus and I have so much to tell you that I scarcely know what part to keep back to make this letter short, but will conclude by telling you a little about how we spent New Year's day.

In the morning we got in the worst part of the City for an open air, where the people listened to us with such rapt attention that would have been creditable to our road-race drivers. Sir H. H. Bowles, though steeped in the war, lived sin in that they were hungering and thirsting after something more than the world can give. May God bless and bring these poor enlightened souls to Himself our prayer.

The afternoon meeting was a wonderful time, everyone seemed at liberty and two souls came to Jesus and professed to find Him in the Salvation of their souls, after which we had a delicious wind-up, when some of the old veterans got lumbered up and excused a

which made us think that old times had come back again almighty. Anyway things are looking so bright that I am safe in prophesying lively, happy, holy times during the coming year.

The meeting inside commenced with that old song, "If the Cross." The Commissioner led us up to the throne in prayer, then the testimonies were given by the hand boys, who gave their names, where they came from, their occupations before joining the band. A few words of instruction and then by the Commandant to the sinners, but most yielded, so the meeting was brought to a close.

Then the Household Barber commanded to rest where he had not seen, and on the senior faces he found a good crop; the older became dull, the canny Scotchman being the last one left. We reached Trenton after a long ride of 76 miles, the officers and soldiers were waiting for us, when we marched up to the town about a mile and a half from the barracks. The people all flock to listen to us who we are, lots of spectators on the streets again at night, while volumes of music rolled out on the frosty air, the barracks which is rather low, was nicely filled, and we had a testimony meeting, several of the boys said they were glad that God had saved them. They had early days, and at night to work in His vineyard, and sang the kinsell-drill song, we saw the soldiers look at each other and smile, as much as to say that anyone me, if he had any bearing, we hope they will embrace the following opportunities of being at home. Bandmaster closed the meeting after a few words from the Commandant.

We commenced the service about eleven o'clock, and the sinners turned out on the march in the afternoon, large crowds were waiting for us on the streets. We had a march then a stampede made by the band, Burden Burden played, War Cry Mark sang a solo, going all over the verse to find the right note, then the band struck up, and the drum and fife elevated in the air and then bringing them down heavily on the drums, soon let the people know we were about. The meeting inside was led by the Commandant, who read from Romano, 10:12, and sang the kinsell-drill song, "Present your bodies a living sacrifice to God, we believe His words were all to present crowds.

A cadet who was visiting came across a minister who said that in his church there was a congregation of 9,000 people every what church it was remains a conundrum. Can anybody give us this information?

In this city of Teutonic is a certain gentleman who, through his past sins and excesses, has been brought to the very verge of the grave.

As we sat by his side, with sons and grandsons he said, "I was once a sinner, had a high position in the Systech at Winnipeg, but lost God, went down, and now I have lost my son, and that he has almost failed him, and is helpless as a little child. So glad was he to see that he followed us to the bedroom door crying, "Oh come again, I love you Army people to come and see me."

During the past few weeks several souls have been blessed and saved through the house-to-house visitation of the cadets.

Scars from St Andrews

St. Andrews Corps is becoming since the lastest came, the boys come out fine on the singing, and better still, they sweep the hall, light the fire, etc., occasionally.

What grand soldiers they would make, but that will be long to come to pass.

At Kneel drill on Sunday morning there is a halloping of the ladies in their non-appearance since the lad has gone, but if they will only brace up and favor us with their presence, they will find that that will receive a blessing from the same Almighty God as of you.

Wednesday, Dec. 19th, a welcome meeting to Major Deakin and wife. The people were much pleased with the singing of the Major's brother half, and his own size was a subject of comment. One could hear such remarks as these, "I tell you he is larger than me," Major Margate, "I tell you he is not," but the Major is a larger or not we all trust he will be a power for God. May he visit us soon again.

The devil was there in the shape of some small boys who did their best to spoil the meeting.

We visited Universis on New Year's day and had a blessed time. During the Holiday season one dear invalid brother who had been ill for months, came to the meeting on a chair, who, having strength both physical and spiritual, makes an able deacon.

The St. Stephen officers were present and ably addressed the people. Capt.

Wor spoke earnestly, entering the straight road to heaven. That great meeting that God set for us.

After the meeting, and at 2:30 a.m., knocked for admission at the officers' quarters people, and the Rev. Mr. Allen literally filled with the spirit of salvation in their hearts, left the gas lamp, the register and in the gas lamp, that's how the angle of God does, said he, they take a copy of

BROKEN VOWS.

GANT, J. M. MURRAY.

"When thou owest a man a debt, pay it to him; for if the Lord will surely require it of thee; and if he will not, let him go free."

What a blessing the Salvation Army has been, and now is, to thousands of individual souls, as well as to whole households, and what numbers of happy hearts and homes have been made since its advent and yet on the other hand, who can tell the sorrow and misery it has caused, or the number of souls that will be damned

through the light it has shed upon them.

What vows have been made to God by souls at the various points of our throughout the Dominion, to say nothing about any other country. Is it not strange or singular sight to see men and women,

both old and young, upon their knees crying to God for pardon, and making vows to Him that they would be true to Him and to all men, but, in fact,

they are the first to break them.

These are the very ones who are commonly known, in face of the fact that they are so seldom carried out, for if every soul had been true, and every vow had been kept, that those men and women who could weep the Dominion and against which no power could stand were not right, but, as it would be, because he cannot visit or call Was

Was. That young man in private un-form feels he ought to be in the work, and so does that who has just spoke. They are very good soldiers as far as they go,

"Well, has God changed His mind

So much for those who have gone back to the audience, but there are some, even in the ranks, who have had a change of heart, though they will keep their professions. MEMENTO MORI.

"Therefore be ye also ready: for so hour as thou shal think the Son of Man cometh."

Matt. xxiv. 44.

The holiday season which has just past and gone with all its pleasure and rejoicing, and presentation of mementos from the living beings to one another, has been,

no doubt, a time of rejoicing to many people, yet, I might say, to the majority of people who celebrate this festive season.

In my mind's eye I can see a part of a family who have been separated from the main part for a length of time, moking preparation to take part in the grand family reunion on New Year's day. Can you come with me, reader, and witness with joy, as I look from their eyes, hunt up the date of leaving, set their houses in order for the departure. At last all is ready, and the starting day arrives, the conveyance is at the door, the question is asked, "

"Are you ready?" Is there any hindrance? No, all is ready, and the farewell! And who is that young man

we see joined while the lasses are in charge of the corps, but now there are lots leading and the situation has gone, so of course, he has gone as well.

Farewell! And who is that young man

we see ready to be an officer in the army? Oh, he used to be an officer in the corps, but while she was here she got struck on that young men who is with her,

and when he proposed who sold "yes," and now she always sits there. This other young lad used to be an officer too,

but his fight was so hard, and she got so sickly (in soul) I suppose that the doctor told her she must quit or die. She has done both spiritually. Those two others, that young men to the right and the young lady on your left, they were keeping company, and she said to him, "I am a sinner, and the other with an amorous lad, and because the captain said something to them that they had not like,

they had their names taken off the roll and their colors are gone. Poor lad!"

The parcels containing presents for loved ones are put into warm wraps, and are soon ready for the train, which they board and are soon rapidly whirled on toward their destination, with their expectations running high for a good happy re-union, their minds not being able to think of danger or trouble. They are indeed very anxious about the safety of their loved ones, though they will keep their professions. The last captain who has just left the station awhile ago, she made an agreement to write to one of the unawed lads in town (unknown of course to his superiors, but not to God). The lad who has charge now is a good fellow, and he is not bad, right, but he is a world

ONE THING!

A. M. H. TAYMOUR.

"Yet lackest thou one thing." Luke xvi. 25.

While reading about the young man who came to Jesus and asked Him what good thing he must do to inherit eternal life, I was struck by the words of the young man, "I have a great many sins upon me, but thou knowest them all."

He asked the young man if he had any sins upon him, and the young man replied, "I have a few sins, but thou knowest them all."

Jesus said, "Thou art right, but thou lackest one thing, that is, to love me above all things."

Now, I have a few sins upon me, but thou knowest them all."

SONGS

Composed Expressly for the WAR CRY.

1. Victory.

BY CHORUS.

TUNE—Going home to Jesus,
THE Army of Jesus still marches Our motto is forward, and victory our song;
Determined to conquer, and never retreat,
Till every poor sinner is brought to His feet.

CHORUS.

We're going on to victory, we're going on
to victory;
We never shall be defeated, for we're on
the winning side;
We're going on to victory, we're going on
to victory;

We're dwelling in the full salvation tide,
We are not discouraged, though many may fall;

The battle is real, and the cowards will
bow;

There's many brave soldiers that ne'er will give in;

Though every poor rebel is rescued from sin,
The war never ceases, we fight day and night;

The devil in earnest, his soldiers are bright;

So glad to the colors, and never give in,
The soldiers of Jesus are certain to win;

The Lord is our fortress, our home is above,
Our hearts are sharp, but we shoot them in the air;

If such a sound would you, oh come and be healed;

For our Great Physician has never yet
failed.

2 Joyful all the day.

W. KEMP, HODSBY'S TROOP'S NAME.
TUNE—Bringing in the sheaves.

J OHN in the Savio,
In my great experience,
Saw many a heartless,
While I'm living here,

Suited in the morning,
When this life is over,
I may get a welcome
To that home on high.

CHORUS.

Joyful all the day,
Joyful all the day,
Happy in my portion,
Joyful all the day. Repeat.

J oyful in the meetings,
Working for my Master.
Singing hymns, psalms,
Singing lay around,

Stoking the lost ones,
Saving souls for Jesus;

Happy in His service,
Joyful all the day.

J oyful at our business,
Diligent and thoughtful,
Laboring for the body,
Honored and true,

Happy and contented,
Seeking first the kingdom.

Claiming God's own promises,
Grace is rich and free.

3 Make Your Peace with God.

ELENA E. GREEN, MORSESBORO.
TUNE—Will you meet me at the Fountain,

S INNER, will you come to Jesus
With His arms are open wide,
He will cleanse and save and keep you,
His precious bleeding side.

Will you come to Him this moment,
Do not longer stay away,

For He died to save the wretches;
Come, He's passing by this way.

CHORUS.

Sinner will you come to Jesus,
To the Fountain pure and clear,
Sinner will you come to Jesus,
Will you come and never fear?

Sinner would you like to know His Jesus, Saviour of mankind?
Oh, you never will regret it,
You your all in His will find.

Glorify the Lord no longer,
For the time is drawing nigh,

You must meet Him then, poor sinner;

Determined to conquer, and never retreat,

Till every poor sinner is brought to His feet.

CHORUS.

We're going on to victory, we're going on
to victory;

We never shall be defeated, for we're on
the winning side;

We're going on to victory, we're going on
to victory;

We're dwelling in the full salvation tide,
We are not discouraged, though many may fall;

The battle is real, and the cowards will
bow;

There's many brave soldiers that ne'er will
give in;

Though every poor rebel is rescued from sin,
The war never ceases, we fight day and night;

If such a sound would you, oh come and be
healed;

For our Great Physician has never yet
failed.

4 Salvation.

SISTER MAINE, WOODSTOCK, N. B.
TUNE—I'm believing and receiving,

O my God, my sin I see,
Now like mountains towering high,

All my life I've sinned 'gainst Thee,
Surely I deserve to die.

CHORUS.

Yet Thy promise is unfalling,
Thou hast said, and this I know—

Through my sin be red as crimson.

Y'will wash them white as snow.

As before Thee, Lord I fall,
Drop down on me all sinuous,

Utter silence yet I call

Through Sabbath by Thy Son.

Now I claim Thy promise, Lord,
Of redemption by Thy Son;

Fully now I trust Thy word,

Hallelujah! it is done.

5 War and Experience.

LORNA, WARDHAUER.

TUNE—Washed in the blood white as snow

WE are soldiers of the Lord,

Trusting in His blessed word,

And we're fighting while we're living here,

below;

"Gird the devil and all sin,

Woo the victory shall win,

Through the predestined blood that cleanses us

white as snow.

CHORUS.—Washed in the blood, etc.

Though the accursed rage,

And against our souls wage,

All the hosts of hell in terrible array,

In the strength of God we'll go,

Till we've conquered every foe,

The "wall down," we'll hear the blessed

Master say.

When we're dished fighting here,

Then without a doubt of fear,

We shall go to dwell with Jesus Christ above.

And His praises we will sing,

Till the bells of Heaven ring,

Right throughout a long eternity of love,

Religion of Humanity.

not live to be a hundred years old,

one or two opinions that did not agree with the theologians. In the early part of his life, he had a terrible struggle with idioty. Where is the man who has made any mark for God who has not had to fight the political devil?

He fought and got the advantage of him.

The beginning of infidelity is like the letting out of water, which begins with just a drop, then a trickle, and finally the embankment will give way, it's done. He gave up first something about fever puerilis, and something else, and at last, as he walked his college room in agony, he felt he must give up his hold in God himself.

Then, he said, he'd be a sly devil at midnight. Is there nothing, he asked himself, that I can take hold of and believe in? I'm afraid he did not find any such a thing. Through the power of God

he was saved, and he became a Christian name. Now I claim Thy promise, Lord,

Fully now I trust Thy word,

Hallelujah! it is done.

Eastern Division.

St. John District.

Glorious meetings during the past week have been held at St. George's, Ont., and at many of the towns who attend them night after night are anxious to have salvation. It seems they are so blinded by false doctrines that they cannot understand the true way. God helping us we mean to do all we can towards helping them to Jesus, and we will believe soon will soon be seen on the scene. On Wednesday brother came to God, and on Wednesday night another, and now both are rejoicing in the knowledge of sins forgiven, and warning their young companions to turn from evil and seek the Saviour. Glory to God! More to follow.

"Glory to God in WOODSTOCK, the highest!" We often say, "Praise the Lord, he has done it." But sometimes he has started with a march around town at 7 a.m., having eight different stands for firing. We all got blessed and the devil got mad, but we, like the wise men in the east, went out to proclaim a Saviour born. In the afternoon was a real stirring march at meeting inside, which we called "Lord, send us thy Word." It was a glorious day. At night our corps called out again at 7 p.m. and with drums, cornets and other instruments made a joyful noise unto the Lord. The people came in crowds till the place was filled. The people said the meetings were some of the best they had ever been to. God was there and the converts were now full. His children at a right hand of all the world things God had done for them, and left said if they had not the gold and different gifts to bring them were glad they were able to give him all their hearts. Ours was a happy Christmas, and we hope yours was. Soul for the west, two, and backsliders four. Glory to God.

Halifax District.

We are still proving our King strong AMHERST, Oct. 1, 1870. During the past two weeks a steamship sank and found peace and pardon at the Cross. On Christmas Eve had a "How-to-be-happy" meeting, and as we looked at the bright faces on the platform, radiant with salvation light, our hearts bounded with gladness, and we felt that indeed this was the very happiest Christmas we ever spent. We wound up the day's fight with a bonfire in the fountain, and still the work goes on.

We are nicely saved here GLOXFORD, in Oxford this morning, and Capt. J. M. HARRIS, to deliver. During the past two weeks we will give you little history of the light. Since our last report on Friday we had the Staff and officers from Spring Hill and Pugwash with us. "What kind of a meeting are you going to have?" was asked of the Staff in the open air, and we answered, "A swearing and dedication service, and it will come off in the open air." "Good," said one, and many a soul felt their weight of sin but none would yield that night. Christmas day will be a grand day to our souls. We just sat in the morning for a filling up time, and at twenty of six met together we can truly say the Lord met with us, and we left feeling glad that we had an important work to do. After the filling up time, we had a march, open air, and Holiness meeting, in the afternoon; we had an open air and at night we had a good Praise and Thanksgiving meeting, and we believe God gave a hand on many of the unconverted people. Sunday was the crowning time for God was with us and did help a lot to give up their sin, and now we are rejoicing and giving God the glory for three prisoners and thirteen backsliders.

GUYSBORO, Having not heard Capt. V. ALLEN, we can rejoice in the fact that God is having his own way and that souls are being brought to know Him. Elavas prisoners and two backsliders for the past two weeks.

LETETE, during the past week have been held at St. George's, Ont., and at many of the towns who attend them night after night are anxious to have salvation. It seems they are so blinded by false doctrines that they cannot understand the true way. God helping us we mean to do all we can towards helping them to Jesus, and we will believe soon will soon be seen on the scene. On Wednesday brother came to God, and on Wednesday night another, and now both are rejoicing in the knowledge of sins forgiven, and warning their young companions to turn from evil and seek the Saviour. Glory to God!

We feel to day it is good to be living for CAPT. L. WHIT. Jesus when we see so many going on work for the devil, and so few to do God's will makes us cry out with all our hearts, "Lord save the people of Pugwash." There are a lot of people here if they were here they would make good soldiers, but their hearts are so hard. Lord meet them down.

STELLARTON, up and up CAPT. A. PREST. Since last report we have had a visit from some of the Staff, Capt. Southall from crossing to the island as he put it, and doing, but it is "an old wind that blows no one good," so we have had a good time for a man. Christmas day was a wonderful time here. The band-little announced that the meetings would be led by Staff-Capt. Moirine and his little helpers and wives of surrounding corps, and further that the programme would consist of: Holden's meeting and trumpet work, followed by a march, and closing with a flight of angels. Words cannot be found to describe the day's campaign, suffice it to say that the next day the Salvation Army bus known in Stellarton, at least so say the people, they have more than ever convinced the doubters of God's power that was nothing like salvation when they told us that God had done for them. Everybody enjoyed their visit antiquity for the next.

Yarmouth District.

ANNAPOULIS, properly stirred up this CAPT. OSBORN. This day we have seen the desired result we know that God has been leading us and efforts put forth in his strength never fail, and a visit from Staff-Capt. Griffith and Capt. Arden Saturday and Sunday more than ever convinced the doubters of God's power that was nothing like salvation when they told us that God had done for them. Everybody enjoyed their visit antiquity for the next.

BARREY, CAPT. COATE. The wash was good, but Sunday was the pro-day. Holiness was real good, souls got freedom. Afternoon God and one poor sinner met face to face; also at night a young lady who had told me she was a saved sinner found her mistake out, came to the fountain and got properly cleansed. It was a proper stirring all through.

Hallelujah! Faith's ear can catch the sound of abundance of rain."

"Lord send it in torrents."

"Lord send it in torrents."

"We're marching on to war."

"We're marching on to war."

"Or what the people say,

"Or what they think we are."

We're going in to win this town for Jesus.

Since you last heard from us God has been speaking very loud to the people's hearts and showing them the beauty of His salvation, and six precious souls have stepped out of darkness into light. Staff-Capt. Moirine was with us on day of Sunday. Holiness meeting. Ood saw me on day of Sunday. The wash was drawn; and two stepped in the fountain for cleasning. At night conviction rested upon the people and many felt their need of salvation but wot away without Christ, but things are slapping for a mighty bright soon. Look out for Windsor.

Moncton and P.E.I. Division.

GLORY TO GOD FOR VICTORY, CAPT. FRAZEE. The past week has been one of blessing to our souls and God has been helping us in a wonderful way. His presence being felt in every meeting and number crying out salvation. Since last report we have been down to Fredericton for pardon and six for holiness, and we rejoice to know that God has set them free. Many more are daily converted to the truth and feel they ought to be saved.

WESTPORT, CAPT. FRADHAM. Fighting, fighting along the narrow way. The way is rough and the fighting tough. But we shall win the day.

Our Sergeant-major, last Friday night, was a great time to our souls.

Hallelujah! Every corporal present. A song and some prayer and the blessing came upon us. Each one gave their testimony and poured out their hearts to each other. Here's a few testimonies balled down:

"Praise God, I am nicely saved

but not satisfied with that but I want to be always doing something for others.

GEORGETOWN, We thank God for keeping us well during the past week. Our Christians are we, bring up our children in the way of the Lord, and we went to look at it, so we found a beautiful present from Santa Claus (God our Father) which was one soul. Glory to God, "Salvation George" is still on the war-path and gives them the full meaning of it. If any man is holier than I am, I am, "Fife a XARMOUTH, I want to tell you how God is helping us in Yarmouth. We had some rough weather the first of the week, but though small crowds yet great meetings and one blessed conversion, a dear man volunteered for God and was gloriously saved. The meeting on Thursday about "the analogy" was a blessed one with great conviction. Yesterday's meeting were of the best stamp. Nine-drill God gave us for holding meetings of the "Unseen" a blessed free-and-easy with the people for pardon, but at night God did not sleep on the crowd, many everyone in the prayer meeting fell that need of God. Many wept but only two souls yielded, but one of them was just proper worth a world of labor. May God bless Yarmouth!

SUMMERSIDE, We are still thrash- ing the devil, CAPT. MILLER.

He has seen one disengaged, he discarded us on one point and another neither are we and although we cannot report any souls yet, we can say God is with us and leading us on to victory. Hallelujah!
